

From Article: Spas for Dad

June 13, 2008

"Salt scrub" and "deep pore extraction" aren't taboo terms for men anymore, as spas cater more and more to the male half. Ladies still have more options for places to unwind and pamper themselves than men, but with male-only and male-friendly spots offering everything from just-for-men facials to male back waxes, the guys aren't far behind.

Spa treatments don't get much manlier than the beer pedicure ($30) offered at this Roscoe Village salon and spa. Beer enzymes are added to the foot soak to soften calluses and rough skin. After the soak, guests can enjoy a cold one as their newly softened toes are filed and trimmed. If you prefer to save the beer for your pedicure, sip on complimentary tea or coffee instead.
